Your statement for Care setting 1 continued

My time in this home was defined by fear, hunger, and a complete absence of care. From the moment I was there, I felt like an inconvenience to the staff rather than a child who deserved to be looked after. That feeling has never fully left me.

I was hungry constantly. Food was used as a form of punishment, and I was so frightened of the staff that I was scared to ask for anything to eat. The hunger became so severe that I was eating toothpaste just to try and fill that emptiness. I was also severely dehydrated and was not given water as I needed it. For a child to be in that state — hungry, thirsty, and too afraid to ask for basic necessities — is something that should never have been allowed to happen.

The staff were deeply intimidating, and I was genuinely scared of them. I was constantly criticised, humiliated, and belittled. I was ignored and isolated, and there was absolutely no support offered to me at any point. I spent my time walking on eggshells, never knowing what might result in punishment, and always feeling as though my presence was unwelcome and burdensome. I was not permitted to make friends, which left me feeling profoundly alone. Human connection is something every child needs, and it was deliberately denied to me. The isolation I felt inside that home was total.

I was always cold. There was no heating, and my clothes were never washed. The consequence of this followed me beyond the walls of the home, as I was bullied at school because of it. The neglect I suffered did not stay behind closed doors — it affected every part of my life, including what should have been a safe and normal part of childhood.

I believe I may have been physically struck on occasions, but I have blocked much of it out. The mind sometimes protects itself from what is too painful to fully hold, and I accept that there are parts of my time there that I may never be able to fully recall or process.

I also have reason to believe that sexual assaults were taking place within that home. I remember being very scared, and that fear has embedded itself in me in ways I am still trying to understand. I want this recorded, even though it is one of the most difficult things to put into words.

Throughout my entire time there, I received no help whatsoever. The impact of that neglect and abuse has followed me into adulthood and has affected every area of my life. My nervous system has been deeply affected by what I went through. I would become overwhelmed with grief seeing families together, knowing that the warmth and safety of a loving home was something I was being denied. The staff made those feelings even worse rather than offering any comfort.

I now struggle to trust people. I suffer from depression, PTSD, and anxiety, and I have been on medication as a result. My confidence has been severely damaged, and that has affected my whole life — my relationships, my sense of self, and my ability to feel safe in the world. These are not small things.

They are the lasting consequences of years spent in an environment where I was neglected, frightened, isolated, and mistreated at a time when I was most vulnerable and most in need of genuine care.

I deserved so much better than what I was given, and I feel it is important that everything I have described is fully heard and acknowledged.
