Section 1: Personal details

This information will be used to join together Part 1 and Part 3 of your application forms.

Name

Richard Smith

Date of birth

Day Month Year

The next section asks you to write your statement of abuse.

Section 2: Your statement of abuse

Please refer to page 32 of the “Help to apply” guidance when filling in this form.

Please make sure that whatever way you provide your statement, you include all the information Redress Scotland needs to make a decision. You can find out more on page 35 of “Help to apply”.

You may find that writing this brings up feelings or memories. If you need support you can speak to a case worker who can refer you to further help:

- Telephone: 0808 175 0808 (freephone)
- International: +44 131 297 6500
Lines are open Monday to Thursday, from 10am to 4pm (except Scottish public holidays)
- Email: apply@redress-scheme.scot

Providing your statement of abuse

In Part 1, you will have provided information about any relevant care settings you were abused in.

In Part 3, you need to provide a statement about your abuse. You can choose how you want to provide your statement. You can complete Q1, Q2, Q3 and Q4. Or you can:

- submit a previous statement (for example, a copy of a statement given to the police)
- write your statement in another format that is better suited to you

How to complete this section

You may have been abused in one relevant care setting, or in several different ones.

For this part of the application form, please provide a statement about each care setting you were abused in.

For example, if you were abused in 3 relevant care settings, please provide 3 statements.

You can do this in any order that makes sense to you.

There are pages for 4 care settings included in this form. If you need more copies, you can:

- contact a case worker
- make a copy yourself
- print additional pages from mygov.scot/redress

Please remember:

- there are no wrong answers - if Redress Scotland needs more or different information, your case worker will get in touch with you and let you know
- do not worry about your spelling
- use as much or as little space as you need to give your information - you can continue on additional pages if you want to

Your statement for Care setting 1

Please read page 32 of the “Help to apply” guidance before you begin.

In Part 1, you will have already provided information about the care settings you were abused in. By providing this information here, your case worker can join together the name of the care setting with your statement of abuse.

Q1 | What is the name or location of the relevant care setting you were abused in?

(For example, the name of the care home, or the city or region where you lived in foster care or while boarded out).

Linnwood Hall, Leven

Do not worry if you are uncertain about dates or time. Please provide your best estimate.

Q2 | When were you abused?

For example: a single date, an age, or an approximate time or time range.

1986

You do not have to provide names, if you cannot remember or do not feel comfortable doing so. If you do provide a name it will be passed to Police Scotland.

Q3 | Who was involved in your abuse?

For example: a member of staff, a peer or someone outside the care setting.

The information you provide will be used by Redress Scotland to make a decision about your application. Redress Scotland will use the “Assessment framework” to help them do this, available on gov.scot. Please be aware that it contains graphic descriptions of abuse.

Q4 | On the next page, please provide as much information as you can about:

- the abuse you experienced while living in this care setting
- what life was like for you during this time
- how the people responsible for your care and welfare failed to carry out that duty (within or beyond your care setting)

You can continue on additional pages if you need to.

Please read page 36 of “Help to apply” to find out more about what information you may want to include.

I look back on my time at Linnwood Hall in Leven and still struggle to understand how adults who were meant to protect me could treat me the way they did. I was just a child, and yet every day felt like a battle I never asked to fight. The staff who were supposed to care for me became the very people I feared most. They would hit me, shout at me, and punish me for things I didn't even understand. When I tried to avoid going in because of what they were doing, they used that as another excuse to hurt me.

Some of the worst moments were when they crossed boundaries no adult should ever cross with a child. They acted in ways that were completely inappropriate, touching parts of my body they had no right to touch. I didn't have the words back then to describe what was happening, but I knew it was wrong. I knew it made me feel ashamed, confused, and terrified. Instead of helping me feel safe, they made me feel like my body didn't belong to me. There were days when they wouldn't feed me properly, leaving me hungry and exhausted. If I made a mistake or stepped out of line, the response was always violence—slaps, kicks, or whatever they felt like doing in the moment. I learned quickly that showing emotion only made things worse, so I shut down. I stopped expecting kindness. I stopped expecting fairness. I stopped expecting anything good at all.

People later called me a troubled youth, but they never saw what created that trouble. They didn't see the fear I carried or the anger that built up inside me from being treated like I didn't matter. I rebelled because rebelling felt like the only power I had left. When adults hurt you every day, you start to believe the world is against you, and you push back in the only ways you know how. I shouldn't have had to go through any of that. No child should. The things that happened to me shaped the way I saw myself and the world around me. They made me feel small, unsafe, and unworthy. It took me years to even begin to understand that what happened wasn't my fault. I wasn't a bad kid. I wasn't asking for it. I was a child trying to survive in a place that failed me completely.

Even now, the memories stay with me. They don't control me the way they used to, but they're still there, reminding me of what I endured and how far I've come. Telling my story is one way I take back some of the power that was taken from me. It's a way of saying that what happened mattered, that I mattered, and that the child I was deserved so much better than what he got.

Do you want help
with this section?

If you want help before sending in the form, you can:

- read page 32 of the “Help to apply” guidance
- contact a case worker

The next section has questions about your supporting documents.

Section 3: Supporting documents

Please provide any supporting documents you have related to your abuse in care.

You can find out more about these types of documents on page 33 of the “Help to apply” guidance.

In some cases, it may be difficult to find supporting documents. To help with this part of the application, you can:

- include supporting documents when you send this part of the form, if you already have them
- send in your form without any supporting documents – your case worker will get in touch with you and have a conversation about what you can provide

Please tick which option you have chosen:

- I am including supporting documents with my form
- I am not including supporting documents
(if you tick this, a case worker will contact you)
- I am collecting my documents and will submit them a later date
