Good afternoon

I write in response to your email below.

I have searched our systems and we have no record of your client having any cases before the Mental Health Tribunal.

We do not hold any data at all in relation to your client.

For clarity, at the Tribunal we do not hold patient's medical records, we would only have data in relation to someone if they have had a case before the Tribunal in the past. For medical records in relation to your client, you should contact the relevant hospitals or health boards directly.

Kind regards
