The next section asks you to write your statement of abuse.

Section 2: Your statement of abuse

Please refer to page 32 of the “Help to apply” guidance when filling in this form.

Please make sure that whatever way you provide your statement, you include all the information Redress Scotland needs to make a decision. You can find out more on page 35 of “Help to apply”.

You may find that writing this brings up feelings or memories. If you need support you can speak to a case worker who can refer you to further help:

- Telephone: 0808 175 0808 (freephone)
- International: +44 131 297 6500
Lines are open Monday to Thursday, from 10am to 4pm (except Scottish public holidays)
- Email: apply@redress-scheme.scot

Providing your statement of abuse

In Part 1, you will have provided information about any relevant care settings you were abused in.

In Part 3, you need to provide a statement about your abuse. You can choose how you want to provide your statement. You can complete Q1, Q2, Q3 and Q4. Or you can:

- submit a previous statement (for example, a copy of a statement given to the police)
- write your statement in another format that is better suited to you

How to complete this section

You may have been abused in one relevant care setting, or in several different ones.

For this part of the application form, please provide a statement about each care setting you were abused in.

For example, if you were abused in 3 relevant care settings, please provide 3 statements.

You can do this in any order that makes sense to you.

There are pages for 4 care settings included in this form. If you need more copies, you can:

- contact a case worker
- make a copy yourself
- print additional pages from mygov.scot/redress

Please remember:

- there are no wrong answers - if Redress Scotland needs more or different information, your case worker will get in touch with you and let you know
- do not worry about your spelling
- use as much or as little space as you need to give your information - you can continue on additional pages if you want to

Your statement for Care setting 1

Please read page 32 of the “Help to apply” guidance before you begin.

In Part 1, you will have already provided information about the care settings you were abused in. By providing this information here, your case worker can join together the name of the care setting with your statement of abuse.

Q1 | What is the name or location of the relevant care setting you were abused in?

(For example, the name of the care home, or the city or region where you lived in foster care or while boarded out).

Seafield Aberdeen

Do not worry if you are uncertain about dates or time. Please provide your best estimate.

Q2 | When were you abused?

For example: a single date, an age, or an approximate time or time range.

1978 -1981

You do not have to provide names, if you cannot remember or do not feel comfortable doing so. If you do provide a name it will be passed to Police Scotland.

Q3 | Who was involved in your abuse?

For example: a member of staff, a peer or someone outside the care setting.

The information you provide will be used by Redress Scotland to make a decision about your application. Redress Scotland will use the “Assessment framework” to help them do this, available on gov.scot. Please be aware that it contains graphic descriptions of abuse.

Q4 | On the next page, please provide as much information as you can about:

- the abuse you experienced while living in this care setting
- what life was like for you during this time
- how the people responsible for your care and welfare failed to carry out that duty (within or beyond your care setting)

You can continue on additional pages if you need to.

Please read page 36 of “Help to apply” to find out more about what information you may want to include.

I want to begin by explaining that I was placed into care because of difficulties at home with my stepfather. I was a child in a vulnerable situation, and what I needed was to be placed somewhere I would feel safe and supported. That is not what I found.

The punishments in this home were frequent, humiliating, and completely disproportionate. If I was late returning, I was made to stand outside regardless of what I was wearing — sometimes in nothing more than a t-shirt — with my hands held in the air, in the cold. The length of time I was made to stand there depended on how late I had been. It was a deeply humiliating experience, and the cold was at times very difficult to bear. That was not care. That was punishment for the sake of punishment.

If we were considered to have misbehaved, we were made to do chores such as washing the dishes, which would be made to take an extremely long time as a form of discipline. We were also punished by being denied contact with our families, which was one of the cruellest consequences of all. For a child already separated from home, being cut off from family visits felt like a punishment that went far beyond anything reasonable or justified.

There were two members of staff in particular who stand out in my memory. The main person in charge was called Jim, and he was the one who decided and handed out our punishments. There was also a member of staff called Betty, who would regularly scream and shout at us. Living under that kind of unpredictable and aggressive behaviour was frightening, and it made the home feel anything but safe. On top of this, if we were deemed to have done something wrong, we would be given the silent treatment, which in its own way was another form of control and emotional punishment.

I was also locked in a room when I was considered to have misbehaved. Sometimes this would last for hours, depending on what I had supposedly done. Being confined alone in that way, with no idea how long it would last, was frightening and isolating.

I was aware of things happening at night that troubled me deeply. Staff would come into the rooms of some of the other girls during the night, and I remember feeling very unsettled and scared by this. I want that to be recorded as part of my account.

I also recall the girl who slept next to me regularly wetting the bed. The way this was handled by staff was unkind and lacking in any compassion or understanding. She was a child, and she deserved to be treated with care and sensitivity.

I was prevented from forming friendships. Other children were permitted to return later in the evenings, but I was made to come back early. Being singled out in that way reinforced the feeling that I was being treated differently, and it added to the sense of isolation I already felt. Running away felt at times like the only option available to me. I did so on a number of occasions, but each time the police would return me to the home. As much as I did not want to be there, I had nowhere else to go.

The impact of everything I experienced during my time in that home has stayed with me throughout my adult life. I suffer from anxiety, depression, and PTSD. I have found it extremely difficult to form and maintain relationships, and I do not go out very often. The trust that was broken during those years has never fully been restored. I was a child who needed to feel safe and cared for, and instead I was punished, frightened, and isolated at every turn. The consequences of that have shaped my life in ways that are very hard to fully put into words.

Do you want help
with this section?

If you want help before sending in the form, you can:

- read page 32 of the “Help to apply” guidance
- contact a case worker

The next section has questions about your supporting documents.

Section 3: Supporting documents

Please provide any supporting documents you have related to your abuse in care.

You can find out more about these types of documents on page 33 of the “Help to apply” guidance.

In some cases, it may be difficult to find supporting documents. To help with this part of the application, you can:

- include supporting documents when you send this part of the form, if you already have them
- send in your form without any supporting documents – your case worker will get in touch with you and have a conversation about what you can provide

Please tick which option you have chosen:

- I am including supporting documents with my form
- I am not including supporting documents
(if you tick this, a case worker will contact you)
- I am collecting my documents and will submit them a later date
