- Daughter
- Adoption Agency Thames

Spoke at length about Colins Daughter, her 16th birthday this year and missing the annual deadline to send a "once a year" letter to her via the adoption agency. Colin missed sending a letter because of his addiction.

Colin wanted to know the legal age in England for her to get his information to contact him and we found out it is 18.

Colin sent a letter to the agency in October and he wanted to find out if she had got the letter.

Gave Colin access to the phone and he contacted the agency.

The letter had gone to the wrong address, but they had received it now and would pass it on.

Colin didn't want them to know He was in rehab. He was a bit annoyed that his daughter had not got the letter yet
