CLINICAL INFORMATION*History of presenting complaint*Presenting complaint

Description: anxiety and depression

Comment: Dear Colleague,

This 34-year old lady has recently joined our practice. She has requested referral for some CPN input as she feels she would benefit from support.

She has a long history of anxiety, depression and some aggressive behaviour and anger management. She was previously seen by Auchinlea and in the past by the Perinatal Mental Health when she was pregnant with her daughter Khara.

Ms McLeish appears to have been treated in the past with Fluoxetine. At present, she is taking Mirtazepine as she has done for a number of years, but she currently does not feel that it is helping.

She has significant social issues in that she is separated from her daughter Khara who is currently under local authority care and this is weighing on her mind.

She denies any current drug or alcohol misuse although in her history, I do think these have been a problem in the past but certainly she says that "she hardly ever touches alcohol or cannabis."

She would appreciate your review possibly with a view to looking into psychological therapies and reviewing her medication.

Yours sincerely,
Dr Margaret Morris

Description: Ongoing anxiety

Comment: Dear Colleague,

I would be grateful for your input with this 34 y/o female who has longstanding anxiety and struggling. She is awaiting input from GAMH but this has been sometime.

She is currently tremulous but this is longstanding due to anxiety. She struggles with getting out the house and using propranolol and mirtazapine but not helping. She agrees she may benefit from support and counselling and I would be grateful for your input currently. Her 4 y/o child is under the care of her sister in law and she gets supervised visits. This is making her distressed and anxious at times.

I would be grateful for your input and support.

Kind regards,

Dr Amanda Gibson
GP

Description: Patient referred to first seizure clinic reporting further seizures

Comment: Dear Colleague,

Miss McLeish was already referred to the first seizure clinic in December 2020 from Accident and Emergency at Glasgow Royal Infirmary following a witnessed tonic-clonic seizure.

She has not yet heard about an appointment for your service but she tells me that she had a further apparent tonic-clonic seizure six days ago (from July 30 2021) which was witnessed by her boyfriend who said that it lasted less than five minutes and did not call an ambulance at the time. It occurred when she was sitting watching television in their flat. Her boyfriend describes her body going rigid and then all four of her limbs "violently shaking." She did not bite her tongue and there was no incontinence. She has no recollection whatsoever of the event.

She does have a history of drug and alcohol misuse although she denies using illicit drugs and/or alcohol more recently prior to this further event.

Many thanks,

Dr Matthew Lyons,
Locum GP

CLINICAL INFORMATION*History of presenting complaint*Presenting complaint

Description: Longstanding tremor

Comment: 34yo patient with longstanding multiple-decade history of widespread tremor. In context of anxiety and previous alcohol + polysubstance misuse - reports has been abstinent for a prolonged period. Remains under GP follow-up for anxiety symptoms - feels propranolol only thing that can improve things on occasion - tolerates this without wheeze in context of asthma diagnosis.

She has presented reporting worsening tremor symptoms over the last few months. This is most notable to both hands equally. No associated weakness / sensory changes / pain / co-ordination issues. No focal weakness / slowness in movements. No memory changes.

On examination she appears well with a course variable tremor. Power + function normal and equal with subjective sensation normal also. No co-ordination issues or past pointing with a normal gait.

She received a neurology review of this tremor in 2012 where it was felt these were attributed to anxiety. However in light of its chronicity and worsening features irrespective of her anxiety, I'd be grateful for your routine specialist assessment.

Description: Acute anxiety, insomnia, distress

Comment: 34yo patient with longstanding anxiety and depression. Under GP follow-up for anxiety symptoms - currently her mirtazapine has been increased in dose. Unfortunately over the last 1-2 weeks she reports that contact with her child (who is in kinship care) has been reduce to once weekly secondary to social work. As a result of this the patient states she feels much more anxious, tearful and distressed, struggling to sleep at night and feeling isolated at times. No thoughts of harm / suicide, feels safe and well supported but struggling with these symptoms in context of recent stressful event. The patient remains under GP follow-up - I'd be grateful for your specialist support in the interim in light of her worsening symptoms. She has been given appropriate worsening advice in the interim. Many thanks

Description: Advice - Persistent Cough weeks post LRTI treatment (Left basal consolidation on initial x-ray)

Comment: Dear Colleague,

This 35-year old patient presents with five weeks' history of productive cough and increased shortness of breath following a coryzal illness. She has a more longstanding history of intermittent episodes of shortness of breath on exertion with wheeze with a background of eczema and hayfever. She is an ex-smoker.

She was initially assessed for this in September 2022 following her acute symptoms and found to have a diffuse wheeze heard to all zones with no focal crepitations, with saturations at 98% on room air. As she was already prescribed Propranolol for anxiety symptoms, the patient was hesitant to stop this. She was then prescribed Prednisolone and Clenil alongside Arithromycin antibiotics.

An acute chest x-ray shows evidence of bibasal air space opacification, particularly to the left side. It is reportedly in keeping with possible infection.

She then contacted us two weeks later where she reported that her cough remained unchanged and was then prescribed a course of Amoxicillin.

She attended us on Monday 10th October 2022 for a review and reported that her wheeze had dramatically improved but continuing to cough up thick clear sputum with no blood. She does not describe any unexplained weight loss or examination.

On examination (10th October 2022): She has a normal habitus and weighs 90kg; her chest is clear at all zones; heart rate is 80bpm (regular); no clubbing or lymphadenopathy.

In light of her background and the recent x-ray findings, I would be grateful for your specialist advice on appropriate next steps or investigations.

Many thanks,
Dr Samuel Broadley

Description: Ongoing persistent cough post-LRTI - persistent post-consolidative changes left base

Comment: Thank you for your advice regarding this patient's ongoing persistent cough post-treatment for LRTI + routine specialist review of this. I am writing to update that her repeat CXR has been reported with "asymmetry left base has improved but not resolved". I would be grateful for your specialist assessment as appropriate in light of this finding - please let me know if you require any further information from original referral. Many thanks

Description: new confusion/ataxia/falls/incontinence

Comment: Many thanks for seeing this 35 year old patient who presents with several weeks of worsening confusion/unsteadiness and falls. She has a history of alcohol and polysubstance misuse but both the patient and her partner are adamant she has been adamant form alcohol and drugs for some time. In the past week she has had 2 falls at home when she was found on the floor by her partner having been faecally incontinent. Today she is markedly ataxic and has poor upper and lower limb coordination. There is normal tone/power/sensation in all 4 limbs. She has a history of sciatica with left thigh pains but these symptoms are unchanged currently.

She has also been reporting a productive cough in the past week with some green sputum although her chest is clear. She has a background of pneumonia requiring ECMO 10 years ago.

In view of her unusual symptoms I wonder whether she requires some brain imaging in addition to a drug screen.

Kind regards

CLINICAL INFORMATION*History of presenting complaint*Presenting complaint

Description: Childhood trauma: PTSD symptoms

Comment: Dear Colleague,

This 35-year old patient presents with multiple-decades' history of anxiety symptoms: Anxiousness, panic episodes, poor sleep, racing thoughts, irritability. These are associated with bouts of low mood with anhedonia. She denies any thoughts of self-harm or suicide and she feels safe and well-supported.

She has been prescribed multiple anxiolytic, anti-depressant and mood-stabilising therapies and she is currently taking Lamotrigine 75mg (once daily) and Mirtazepine (30mg at night).

She experiences significant ongoing social stressors: Wendy is going through a child custody battle with her ex-partner and receives Social Work support. In the past couple of months over this period, Wendy has been ruminating and reliving traumatic events from her early life, experiencing them "like real" and "hears them." She becomes acutely agitated and develops adrenalin-associated panic episodes that can come on at any time and have a dramatic impact on her daily functioning. She reports symptoms of increased paranoid thoughts and hypervigilance - nil pervasive delusional thoughts.

On discussion (28th February 2023), she disclosed that at a young age, she was repeatedly physically assaulted by her Mum's Sister with a baseball bat. Much later in childhood, she recalled finding her Dad unwell and lying out in the community having suffered an overdose. She also reports ruminating on traumatic episodes in childhood, when she found her friend dead at a young age from unknown cause.

On assessment: Wendy demonstrated excellent insight into the impact of her childhood trauma and her thoughts and feelings; her thoughts were organised with no psychotic features; she was not intoxicated; she was very tearful and became agitated discussing these previous traumatic episodes and the impact on her then but also reliving these in adulthood and ongoing hypervigilant episodes.

Wendy certainly demonstrates multiple symptoms that are possibly indicative of PTSD in context of her symptoms. I would be grateful if given her vulnerability and ongoing mental health issues for your further specialist support.

Many thanks,
Dr Samuel Broadley

CLINICAL INFORMATION*History of presenting complaint*Presenting complaint

Description: ?Peripheral neuropathy

Comment: Dear Colleague,

I would be grateful for your review of this 37-year old lady with a significant past medical history. This includes bronchiectasis and previous ECMO for respiratory failure. She also has a history of epilepsy and previous issues with alcohol and cannabis misuse, although she maintains she has remained abstinent from these.

She currently experiences worsening pins and needles with altered sensation to the extremities of all four limbs, and tells me this has been ongoing for the past six months. She has no specific weakness, but does report occasional visual blurring as well.

On examination (14th February 2025): Her nerves are intact; she has normal tone, power, reflex and sensation in all four limbs, but does tell me that the pins and needles in her toes and fingers are persistent and intermittent and experiences this most days.

Her most recent bloods have shown only very borderline-low B12 level at 65, so I have arranged for some oral replacement and will recheck levels in due course. All other screens are normal.

I would be grateful for your expert opinion.

Kind regards,
Dr Matthew Lyons

Comment: Thank you for seeing this lady. She woke this morning with numbness and pins and needles in all 5 fingers of her left hand. She was unable to open her car door later today when she attended ortho for a routine appointment. She feels the numbness is moving further up her hand and the subjective weakness in her grip is not improving.
No loss of speech, vision, No other weakness. No history of arm or shoulder trauma.
OE subjective loss of sensation fingers. Grip appears weaker compared to right. No obvious wrist drop.

| History                 | Distressed, crying, shaking. Broke up with partner of 16 years yesterday - found out about 3 weeks ago infidelity and more info this week so ended things with him. Naturally very distressed. States been more anxious, tremulous and muscle tension past few weeks; I think likely anxiety related however under neuro and they have been investigating limb symptoms/tremors. See recent letter. Wendy denies any illicit drug/alcohol use. 8 year old daughter in kinship - lives with her partners sister since aged 2. Wendy denies any suicidal ideation/TOSH. Friends aware of situation and is going to see them over weekend and try to keep busy, marthas mummies coming out to see her on monday. partner moving out today. Denies any physical abuse from partner, feels safe. |

| Comment                 | I see the advice to increase dose of lamotrigine and this was printed on 4 December. I assume she is now on target dose of 125mg twice daily so I have altered repeat prescription doses to reflect this.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |

| History                 | discussed memory concerns - states is a new issue since late February 2025 after falling down 6 steps - sustained a neck injury - bruises reportedly down arms and legs on presentation, apparently due to fall - attended A+E - had CT spine. patient states memory issues have much improved over the last 4 weeks - no headache / vomiting / v isual loss with this. feels ahs had a concussion from her fall at the time. denies any ongoing concern / queresi at present. I have strongly advised if any worsening memory symptoms / headache / vomiting / visual chanes / concerns then re-present to oncisder further investigation in context of previous head injury |

| History          | [workflow - email from Martha's Mammies HSCP mental health practitioner Jennifer MacIver under NHS.scot email requesting an "update regarding ongoing referrals for physical health" - multiple queries + concerns noted.] Please can staff inform - Concerns are noted. We do not disclose confidential patient information to a third party without written consent from the patient. Additionally, compiling written reports summarising physical health conditions and relevant onward referrals or plans sites outside of the NHS GP contract, and may in some instances carry a fee. To avoid this, it is often easier for patients to attend with a Marthas Mammies staff member present to update as part of an appointment - I note this has already been occurring. Additionally, the patient can request a copy of her medical notes which indeed will include a full summary of these physical health conditions and plans for each. |

| History          | Difficult consultation as jumping around. Numerous concerns, many ongoing for some time - difficult to pin down history/timeline. Main concern today appears to be ongoing cough, ? productive of clear/yellow sputum. Also mentions bilateral upper thoracic pain, says this has just started within the last couple of weeks. Not pleuritic sounding or extertional. Can feel SOBOE - unclear whether SOB at rest. No haemoptysis as far as I can establish. Note sputum result from March. Had CTPA in late Feb - no PE however changes in keeping with R heart failure.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

| Comment          | Upper thoracic pain postdates CTPA so best arrange CXR in first instance - given card. Also given another sample bottle for repeat sputum MCS. Discussed recent bloods, has not collected folic acid script - directed to reception. Asking for another qFIT pack - lost last one. Encouraged to hand in asap. Discussed inhaler use. Review with results. Worsening advice.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |

| History                 | Seen with 2 support workers from Martha's mummies. Multiple concerns. Recurrent worsening anxiousness, reliving traumatic experiences, ruminating on loss of custody of daughter. Last night was "sitting on a window ledge" - confided this in support workers - no ongoing suicidality at present - keen to access long-term psychological support - enquired if Anchor service available. |

| History                 | Martha's Mammie support workers advised that they were concerned Wendy was misusing substances at home. Asked Wendy - denied this. I have advised support workers therefore that no further investigation would be pursued regarding this given that Wendy is a competent adult demonstrating mental capacity, and denies any substance misuse                                              |

| History                 | Please inform patient - sputum culture has grown a resistant bacteria. Please start a new antibiotic treatment called Ciprofloxacin to take twice daily for 1 week, then can stop. Ciprofloxacin can cause nausea. Any new joint pains on this is rare but if experiences this then stop immediately. Contact us anytime if unwell / concerns                                               |

| History                 | Throbbing pain in both legs - chronic but used to only affect her to the level of her knees. Has sciatica, arthritis in hips, low back pain, epilepsy and essential tremor. Feel gabapentin helps take the edge off it - or by putting a heated blanket on her legs. Sometimes feels as if legs might give way due to shaking. |
| Comment                 | d/w and agreed increase Gabapentin to 200mg BD - trial for 4 weeks.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |

| History          | Heightened anxiety - mixed complicated social circumstances (sees her daughter under supervision) - used to take propranolol but this was stopped due to use of inhalers. Hardly uses SABA - no confirmed diagnosis of Asthma as could not do PFT's properly. |
| Comment          | Re-instate small dose of propranolol for now - if feels not effective then to stop - aware would interfere with any concomitant use of SABA.                                                                                                                  |

| History          | With bilateral legs pains - wants to increase pain relief.                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Comment          | To take recommended medication changes just now - if well tolerated with no adverse effects and ongoing pains in legs then can consider increasing Gabapentin.                                                                                                |

| History          | Pt phoned OOH yesterday afternoon and directed to GP - ended up just going to A&E - no discharge letter through yet but checked portal and they did an ECG and MI Screen which was unremarkable. Phoned back today as ongoing 'crushing' chest pain but now unable to walk - says she can see double, and is walking into walls and still having slurred speech. |
| Comment          | Advised should return to A&E - ambulance to be called.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |

| History                 | rtnd GP call from yest. Please call after 11 as has contact with child. Phoned 13.40 Says her social worker has asked her to call us again as Wendy feels anxiety and tremor really bad at the moment. Says has been taking propranolol but prn. Advised I would suggest TDS at the moment to help tremor and anxiety, needs to be compliant with mirtazapine for it to work at its best - has not had script since December, plans to collect new script from pharmacy today. A little irritable on phone when I suggested there may not be something we can prescribe to help with anxiety and may be that needs other supports such as the ones we discussed and spoke about with her SW too. 'surely theres something better you can prescribe?' Could consider switch from mirtazapine and or inc dose of bblocker but I think needs to come in for f2f review given sudden escalation in symptoms and contact with us. |

History possible as has not had a script printed since 30/12. She admits sometimes forgetting to take, advised this may have negative impact on her mood/anxiety. Discussed measures such as keeping meds somewhere in house she will see them every day and remember to take or setting alarm on her phone to remind her. Discussed planned support from womens aid, the anchor and SW. I don't feel CMHT can add anything currently. Mood is low and tearful, gets angry very quickly, people have said this means she has 'bipolar', I don't think this represents bipolar. Agreed restart meds reg, review few weeks. Denies thoughts of self harm or suicide at all. Says has keys to move house but not moved yet - SAYS MOVING TO 3/2 312 CUMBERNAULD ROAD G31 3LY - PLEASE CHECK NEXT CONTACT IF SHE HAS MOVED - advised will need to register with another gp when moves as G31 not covered by us.

Phoned SW Karine Carlyn 07435 735 240 - lengthy conversation. Multiple events recently leading to change in access for Wendy to Khara. There have been a couple of 'violent incidents' between her and ex-partner James - end of Jan/early feb - police involvement. In January nursery also reported Wendy appeared under the influence and a unannounced SW visit to the house corroborated this. SW says house strongly smelt of cannabis, poss tried to have been covered by huge amounts of air freshener. Karine says Wendy became angry ++ with the other SW present and 'came within an inch of assaulting her' - police were involved. Also Wendy knows ex partner James not allowed to stay overnight in house and Khara told carers/SW that daddy had stayed over and mummy had told her not to tell. Also incident this week of Wendy shouting and aggressive towards kinship carer in front of daughter. A childrens panel has been called, likely to be held couple of weeks. SW Karine under impression Wendy is taking mirtazapine and propranolol reg but has not ordered since December - I will d/w Wendy. I don't think CMHT are best placed for 'anger issues' - this is not a medical diagnosis. Suggest SW support Wendy with accessing The Anchor or Moira Anderson with regards childhood trauma and support, suggested also Tom Allen centre for anger issues. Also been referred to womens aid for support. Advised still awaiting seizure clinic.

req to be referred to Auchinlea fast T if possible . 07912347436. Phoned 12.18 Wendy says has been speaking to SW Karine Carlyn 07435 735 240 and told her to speak to GP about CMHT referral for 'anger issues' as Wendy says she got angry and 'chased the SW' out the house when accused of smoking cannabis. Says was prev getting daily unsupervised contact with daughter Khara but has been reduced to twice weekly supervised visits, really upset with this, a bit teary. Also says has recently lost a close friend.. Advised Wendy I would phone SW to discuss and get back to her. Wendy denies any drug use. Says 'hardly drinks' 'rare occasion now'. Last drink last night - 3 G+T's. Says has been falling out with Kharas kinship carer who Wendy says has been limiting video contact with Khara.

| History                 | Telephone consultation due to covid pandemic. Patient reports further seizures witnessed by ex partner - one last week and one yesterday evening. Last night's seizure - unsure on exact duration but reports 5-10mins. Description of foaming at mouth, eyes rolling, whole body shaking and being dazed for a while afterwards. Denies fevers. Feels back to normal now. Daughter not present / did not witness event. Recent feeling of anxiety - mainly due to concerns with social work and daughter not living with her full time. Also moving house and friend recently passed away. Denies recent drug use, says only drinks approximatey once per month at present, denies alcohol intake associated with recent events. Note referral to first seizure clinic has been scaled up from routine to urgent by Dr ES. Patient happy with this. D/W Dr AM, no additional action required at present. |

| History                 | Discussed incident that led to A&E presentation. Says thought partner had locked her in house but in end turned out he had not and she had keys there. Says had been intoxicated as had been out night before and drinking till late, child's aunty had brought child back to her house in morning but as she was still drunk had phoned friend to come and pick her up for the day. Says partner relationship on/off and he is currently not living in house with them but they still see him reg and getting on ok at the moment. Declines help from eg womens aid. Appears mildly anxious. Smiling, casually dressed, well kempt, make up on. Daughter in room, playing, smiling, waving to me, appears to interact normally with mum. |

| History           | See consultation 10/06, suprapubic pain resolved but now has some dysuria again. No fevers or vomiting. No vaginal discharge. Found out few days ago that partner of 9 years has slept with someone else, he has now left to mothers house. She is wanting check for STI. Will self swab at home and will consider blood tests for BBV. Advised to phone for results |

| History           | Spoke to SW. Visiting regularly - had smelt ?cannabis in house before. Dad on trial, not meant to be in house but ?is Wendy planning on taking him back in. House well kempt when HV goes to visit. Next visit could ask ?dad in house ? any drugs - HV suspects not Wendy but dad could be the one taking cannabis but no evidence at present.                      |

| History           | feels quite good just now. Wants to continue on mirtazapine. No self-harm suicide thoughts. Reports things are going well at home. Sleep can be a bit disturbed at times but not bad. In with child, seems appropriate. Feels mirtazapine helpful, not wanting to consider stopping just now                                     |

| History          | Note FBC fairly normal (wcc normal, neutrophils 7.7, CRP normal), d dimer slightly raised at 459. D/W med reg, high risk patient for PE, probably can't confidently say she doesn't have one esp considering not particularly infective picture on other bloods. Tried to refer to ARU - asked to refer to obs instead. Referred obs reg - happy to receive princess royal maternity. Wendy being driven up tonight. |

| History           | Understood from last consultation that would be seen earlier for booking scan due to previous miscarriage. Received appt this morning for 30th August and upset she is having to wait so long. No abdo pains or bleeding. Not clear from last visit exactly what was said. Expect was warned might be seen earlier. Previous miscarriage mentioned in referral so vetting team obviously thought safe to wait until normal 10-12 week scan. |
| Comment           | Wendy incredibly anxious and distressed at thought of having to wait another 4-5 weeks. Tried to reassure but not successful. D/W MW - no need for early scan. Wendy misunderstood advice. Agreed that I would write to ANC to see if we can bring forward scan due to high levels of anxiety but unlikely to be successful.                                                                                                                |

| Comment           | Peak flow improved but difficult to tell whether due to ABx or stopping beta blocker. Explained that propranolol not ideal in pregnancy. Wendy still keen to have. Agree to low dose on PRN basis rather than regularly. Review in 4 weeks. Sooner if needed.                                                                                               |

| History           | Struggling with mood and anxiety. Tremor is worsening and propranolol has made no difference. Ix by Neurology who felt related to anxiety rather than benign intentional tremor or significant pathology. Has not engaged with PCMHT in the past but would consider this for anxiety management. Keen to increase mirtazapine. |
| Comment           | Given PCMHT leaflet and encouraged to contact. Agreed to increase mirtazapine but monitor for weight gain. To stop propranolol if not helping. Review in 4 weeks. Sooner if mood deteriorates.                                                                                                                                 |

| History           | Abnormally low peak flow on PIP medical so was advised to see GP. Has had longstanding issues with SOBOE and cough at night time. Denies wheeze or chest tightness. No family history of atopy but worried she has asthma. Never had trial of inhalers. Very keen to have further tests.                                       |
| Comment           | This was 4th problem in one appt so needs to come back for discussion about peak flow diary and trial of inhalers. | Comment                 | Discussed with Neuro on call re tremor. Looking back on notes it looks like benign essential tremor was not diagnosed and neurologists thought more likely to be anxiety related. Advice therefore is to increase dose of propranolol rather than using any other meds. Primidone and topirimate other options but not commonly used due to SE's and ?teratogenicity.                                                                                                           |

| History                 | Pain under right ribs and round into back for past 4 days. Not eased with paracetamol. Worse on bending forwards. No cough or SOB but worried as has previously had pneumonia and ended up on ITU. Feeling otherwise OK in herself. Difficult to tell whether RUQ pain or rib pain. Previous deranged LFT's but Abdo USS in 2013 normal.                                                                                                                                        |

| Comment                 | Unsure if abdo or chest. To try analgesia and will do bloods for LFT's. If develops cough or SOB then needs to see GP for review as maybe LRTI. Will review on Monday with results.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

| History          | Managing to cope after miscarriage. Boyfriend being very supportive. Feels mood not to bad given the circumstances. Been taking tewo mirtazapine at night for a while so asking for this to be changed. Doesn't think propranolol is helping tremor. Now that no longer pregnant is there something else she can have instead. |
| Comment          | For 30mg mirtazapine nocte. Will look into other meds for tremor and discuss at review appt on Monday.                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

| History                 | Upper abdomen feels bloated, 'tight and tingly' constantly since yesterday. Novomiting. No indigestion/heartburn symptoms. E+D ok, not feeling feverish,bowels moving ok and pu ok. Worried about liver as ?told prob with liver whenin hosp 2011 with pneumonia - can't see this in notes/letters. Does drink heavilyevery weekend - vomits with it. Discomfort in upper abdo not related torespiration but can be worse on coughing or on bending over. Started |

| Comment                 | declines phone nos. info to CMHT : Wendy has felt drowsy on citalopram and wanted to stop this + try fluox. (though co prescription of antihistamine may play a part) . She feels unsafe on her own with suicidal ideas but no plans and no past history. She is socially isolated due to death/imprisonment of key family members but does have 2 neighbours who spend a lot of time with her when she feels unsafe. see 7-10 d + PRN |
