Dear Investigations Team,

I refer to your request for information on behalf of Helen Fleming Grezele McCormack, which was received on 24/04/2026. We have dealt with your request in accordance with Article 15 of the General Data Protection Regulation.

Unfortunately, we have been unable to locate any information within scope of your request.

The services carried out the additional searches, but they are not able to locate relevant information for Ms. McCormack. As Ms. McCormack indicated her childhood living in West Lothian, it may be worth to request her information from the West Lothian Council.

I am sorry that I cannot be of further assistance at this time; if you have any questions or concerns, please do get in touch.

Right of Appeal

You can ask the Council to review its handling of your request if you are unhappy with how it has been handled.

If you remain unhappy following a review, you can refer your concerns to the UK Information Commissioner (ICO).

The ICO is the independent regulator for data protection law within the UK, and responsible for promoting and enforcing data protection rights. Their website is www.ico.org.uk which contains further details on how they can be contacted for advice.

Bear in mind, the Information Governance Unit and ICO can only review whether you have received all the information to which you are entitled under the SAR process. If you are unhappy with the nature of the information you have received, i.e. how the service has acted, you should progress such concerns through the Council's complaints process.

If you would like to know more about how the Council processes personal data, please read the Privacy Notice on our website (www.edinburgh.gov.uk/privacy) or consult our Record of Processing:

If you would like to know more about data protection, or your information rights in general, the Information Commissioner's Office is responsible for promoting and enforcing the General Data Protection Regulation and the Data Protection Act 2018 and can also provide general advice regarding your information rights. In addition to the information online, they also have a telephone helpline, 0303 123 1113, which is charged at a local rate.

Yours sincerely,

Information Rights Team
